

Introduction to Regional Profiles

While Vermont is a relatively small state with commonalities across communities, each region is unique. The following regional profiles offer a snapshot of selected indicators of child and family well-being for each of Vermont’s 12 regions. Each indicator includes the most high-quality, up-to-date data that is available at the regional level and includes the same data from five years prior for comparison.

Each Regional Council is addressing the early childhood workforce crisis with a regional focus based on the strengths and opportunities available as part of the Council Action Plan. Each profile outlines one way that the Regional Council is addressing these challenges and moving forward the VECAP Goal 3: All Children and Families Have Access to High-Quality Opportunities That Meet Their Needs.

For more information on the early childhood workforce crisis, see the Spotlight starting on page 10.

Please note that due to “test administration during 2020-2021 [being] impacted by several, novel variables”, proficiency in third grade reading assessments is not included for each School District/Supervisory Union.⁶⁷

Central Vermont

The focus of the Central Vermont Regional Council is social connectedness as a way to support and enhance family safety and mental health. This approach is aligned with the American Academy of Pediatrics’ October 2021 Declaration of a National Emergency in Child and Adolescent Mental Health. The workforce challenges for both specific mental health professionals and the upstream providers supporting relational health and family resilience are significant in the Central Vermont region. Previously existing programs grounded in the Strengthening Families Approach are no longer able to be offered despite the increased need due to the isolation and stress exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic. The Council is currently completing an early childhood resource mapping project to inform future council specific approaches to improving social connectedness as well as to share with regional partners and the Help Me Grow/211 Resource Center. The system mapping also includes the current strategies for information sharing and eligibility criteria for services, resources, and supports. Mapping the current Central Vermont regional resources is one way that the Council is moving forward VECAP Goal 3: All Children and Families Have Access to High-Quality Opportunities That Meet Their Needs.

ABOUT REGIONAL COUNCILS

Building Bright Futures’ Regional Councils bring together early childhood stakeholders to identify gaps; share expertise and resources to break down silos; elevate regional and family voice; and implement strategies to respond to the needs of each and every child and family in their respective area. Regional Council members are crucial to each stage of this process, both in official convenings of the Regional Councils, and within the early childhood system more broadly.

The 12 Regional Councils are mandated to support an integrated system of early care, health, and education at the local level under Vermont Statute Title 33 § Chapter 46. In alignment with, and with support from, the State Advisory Council, Regional councils are tasked with coordinating and implementing services in accordance with system and regional priorities. Regular Regional Council meetings are just one way that this mandate is fulfilled.

Statewide, nearly 250 people bring their perspectives together through Regional Councils on a monthly basis. Early childhood stakeholders across regional tables include professionals in physical and mental health, social services, basic needs, early childhood education, PreK-12 education, families of children under 9, and community members invested in the well-being of young children.

Each Regional Council has an action plan to guide decisions and activities. While each plan supports a local comprehensive early childhood system, two regional priorities are set by Regional Councils annually to share across the state. The map below presents the top two priorities of each region which showcases the strength of the regional council network in local priority setting, as well as the connections and variation between the 12 regions in Vermont.

More information about each region including monthly council meetings and updates can be found at buildingbrightfutures.org/what-we-do/regional-councils/
